Tony 'tbone' Salter – Biography

Producer, Engineer, Mixer, Musician, Writer & Recording Studio

Tony has 20 years of studio savvy. He started at Powerplant and Platinum Australia before moving to London. He has worked in-house Engineer positions at EMI Publishing UK (6 years), Mute Song/Records (UK), The Hit Factory London, Falconer and Jam Studios. He has also freelanced for London Records, Sony BMG, Northwestside, Virgin Records, Albert's Production and many independent labels. He is back home in Melbourne, Australia after 17 years away and has set up his own studio and music company.

Other Producers Tony Salter has had the pleasure of working with include:

Hugh Padgham • Alan Moulder • Jimmy Miller
Nelle Hooper • Roger Sanchez • Carl Cox • Carl Craig
Mark Hudson • Mark Berry • Tchad Blake • Mitchell Fromm.

The Production Studio – Melbourne, Australia

Based in central Melbourne the focus is on hard work and delivering the goods whilst enjoying the process. You will always find a professional attitude and those 'creative vibes' that are central to music creation and studio ethos.

The studio can engage any form of sound related work and operates on the Logic and Pro Tools platform. It comprises a control room and vocal booth coupled with high-end also retro valve recording equipment. It's a place where your artists & songs can be brought to life in a relaxed & friendly environment. The good vibes are like no other, and with experience to boot, Tony Salter has the ears and know-how to take any project to the next level, and importantly, the airwaves.

With Tony Salter at the helm of your recording, you will find it much easier to get noticed by the industry and connect with your target market.
